- Zurich as the ideal addition
- THE SQUAIRE Business- and Conference-Center has established itself as a leading venue

Frankfurt/Main – The plug and work group has doubled its modern office space at Zurich Airport. After an initial start with 1,200 square meters the company now offers completely equipped offices including high-end furnishing, office services, and technical infrastructure in 2,400 square meters. Another focus is the offer of co-working space.

The group of companies is present at the airports of two important European financial centers and offers its office solutions and meeting and conference rooms to external individuals for up to 200 people. Next to office space and conference options, there are also accommodations available which are provided by the partner Radisson Blue Hotel at Zurich Airport. Holger Sharp, founder and CEO of plug and work, considers the expansion in Zurich as the ideal addition to THE SQUAIRE Business- and Conference-Center in Frankfurt.

plug and work has operated THE SQUAIRE Business- and Conference-Center at Frankfurt International Airport since 2011. With this project the company entered the new field of conferencing. The Conference-Center has established itself among the leading venues in Germany.
